This document is a record of the National Archives and Records Administration. It contains information regarding the collection, preservation, and access of records. The document is organized into sections, including:

- Section 1: General Information
- Section 2: Records Management
- Section 3: Access and Retrieval
- Section 4: Preservation and Security
- Section 5: Contact Information

The following table provides a summary of the records held by the National Archives and Records Administration. The table includes columns for the date, description, amount, check number, and bank.

NOTE.—The sea and other service affixed to the names of officers in the Register is computed to the 1st January, 1861. As a general rule, the “sea service” with which an officer is credited, is for duty performed under orders from the department, as part of the complement of a vessel-of-war, belonging to the Navy, in commission for sea-service. Officers on the Coast Survey are allowed sea service only for the time they are actually afloat. No credit is given for service in Revenue and Merchant vessels. In the column “unemployed,” is included the time between date of warrant and date of first order from the department for service.

 The attention of officers is particularly called to the Orders and regulations published in the latter part of the Register.

EMPLOYMENT OF MECHANICS TO REPAIR MERCHANT VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, July, 1840.

- Employment and compensation of mechanics to repair merchant vessels. The practice of allowing the mechanics employed at the several navy-yards, and on board ships on foreign stations to repair vessels belonging to the merchant service of the United States, will in future be limited to cases where a refusal to do so would of necessity impose injurious delays or greatly increase the expenses upon the merchant vessel. In such cases the mechanics shall make no demand for any compensation, but receive only such as the owner, assignee, or master of such merchant vessel shall choose to give, and their commander is willing they should take. Officers of the Navy, in like cases, shall neither claim nor receive any compensation whatever.

RIGHTS AND POWERS OF COMMANDERS OF SQUADRONS AND CAPTAINS OF FLAG-SHIPS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 22, 1842.

Commanders of squadrons
and captains of flag-ships.

The frequent misunderstandings which have occurred between the commanders-in-chief of squadrons and the captains of their flag-ships, on the subject of their respective rights and powers; misunderstandings which result only from the fact that their true relation to each other has not yet been properly defined, have suggested to the department the propriety of expressing its own views upon the subject. The following general rule embraces these views:

The commander-in-chief of a squadron, having in command of his flag-ship an officer of equal grade with himself, holds the same relation to that ship as to every other ship of his squadron.

While it is impossible to specify all the powers of a commander-in-chief over the ship which bears his flag, or of the captain of a flag-ship in subordination to the powers of the commander-in-chief, a due observance of the spirit of the above rule will go far to prevent any conflict or collision between those officers.

The dignity of a commander-in-chief is lessened by his engaging in the details of duty of his particular ship, and the respect which ought to attach to the immediate captain of the ship is weakened by any interference with him in the rightful exercise of his authority.

The commander-in-chief of a squadron will find the best support to his own dignity and importance in maintaining the dignity and importance of the officers who are subordinate to him. While, therefore, his superiority must be always admitted, and his authority respected and obeyed, a due and prudent regard to the limitation above indicated, will tend strongly to preserve the discipline and harmony of the service.

REGULATION.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMMANDERS OF STEAM VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, February 26, 1845.

Commanders of steam vessels will cause the following orders to be carried into effect in the vessels under their command, in addition to the general orders and regulations which apply to sailing vessels, or to the general service of the Navy.

The following rules to be carried into effect in steamers.

First. Steam engineers of the Navy, when embarked in vessels, are to conform to the orders of the commanding officer of the vessel, and of the officer of the watch for the time being; but they are not, except in cases of great emergency, to be ordered to perform other duties than those immediately connected with the preservation, repair, or management of the engines and their dependencies.

Engineers to conform to orders.

Second. When practicable, one engineer at least is always to be on duty in the engine room whenever the fires are lighted; and when more than one engineer is attached to the vessel one must be on board at all times ready for duty.

One engineer to be on duty in engine room.

Third. The engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers are to be arranged in watches, and when on watch are to be under the immediate direction of the engineer of the watch, and are not to be ordered on other duties than those connected with the engines, boilers, and their dependencies, except in cases of emergency.

Engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers, to be arranged in watches.

Fourth. The senior engineer is to prepare and submit, for the approval of the commander, bills showing the specific duties of the respective engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers in their watches, for attending to and for cleaning the different parts of the engines and their dependencies, and he will give particular attention that the prescribed duties are performed in a proper manner, and, in case of misconduct or neglect, report offenders to the officer of the watch, or to the commander of the vessel, as the case may require.

Senior engineer to prepare watch bills.

Fifth. When the engines are in operation, reports are to be made hourly to the officer of the deck, whether the engines and their dependencies are in good order, and immediate notice must be given him, at any time, if anything should occur to require a change in the orders under which the engineer is then acting, or special attention to any particular object, to insure safety or more efficiency.

Reports when engines are in operation.

Sixth. The firemen are to be instructed as far as may be practicable to qualify them for managing the engines and dependencies with safety, in case accident or other cause should prevent the attendance of an engineer.

Firemen to be instructed.

Seventh. The senior engineer on board must examine daily the engines and their dependencies, and all parts of the vessel which are occupied by them, or by stores for their use, and make immediate report should any defect or danger be discovered. He must give timely notice to the commander of the vessel of the probable wants of his department, and whenever articles are received for it, must carefully examine if they are of proper quality, and report any which, in his opinion, may be objectionable.

Senior engineer to make daily examinations.

Eighth. Upon the arrival of a steamer in port, an early inspection is to be made by the senior engineer, to ascertain if the engines, boilers, or their dependencies require repairs or cleaning, and will report forthwith to the commander of the vessel.

Inspection when steamer arrives in port.

Repairs or cleaning to be made by the engineers, &c. Ninth. When repairs or cleaning are required for the engines or boilers they are to be made, as far as practicable, by the engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers of the vessel, and they are to be employed on such duties in preference to coaling, if both should be necessary at the same time.

Force-pumps. Tenth. The force-pumps, hose, and all other means for extinguishing fires must be always kept in good order and ready for immediate use, and so reported at the end of each watch by the engineer on duty, and the utmost care must be taken at all times in the arrangement of stores, the use of lights and fires, and the adoption of other precautionary measures to prevent the danger from fire, to which steamers are so much exposed.

Steam-log. Eleventh. A steam-log is always to be kept when the vessel is moved by steam, which log is to be signed in the "column of remarks" by the engineers of the respective watches, at the expiration of their watch and at noon of each day by the senior engineer of the vessel.

Entries to be made in steam-log. Twelfth. The engineer of the watch will be careful to note hourly on the steam-log all the information which the columns in it require, and to place in the "column of remarks" full information of the state of the weather and sea, and any accidents to or defects in the engines or their dependencies, the quality of the coal, or other circumstances, which may be useful for determining the powers and qualities of the vessel, and the engines, under the various circumstances to which they may be exposed. He will carefully note in it the draught of water of the vessel and immersion of the bucket-boards, just before going to sea and on arriving in port, and frequently when receiving coal or other stores.

Steam-log to be handed to commander daily. Thirteenth. The steam log-book is to be handed to the commander of the vessel daily, by the senior engineer on board; and it shall be the duty of the said commander to examine the same, and when satisfied of its correctness to sign it at the end of every calendar month, or oftener should the vessel in the mean time arrive at or anchor in any port.

Steam-logs to be deposited at navy-yards for the use of steamers. Fourteenth. Steam log-books, calculated to contain the log for one quarter of a year, and hydrometers, will be deposited at the respective navy-yards, for the use of steamers, upon proper requisitions. The commander of the vessel must transmit to the Secretary of the Navy, by the first safe opportunity after the close of the months of March, June, September, and December, the steam log-book for the preceding quarter, and whenever a steamer is placed in ordinary, for the period which has not been previously transmitted.

Enlistment of firemen and coal-heavers.

The firemen of the Navy shall hereafter be divided into two classes; and, until further orders, the pay of the first class shall be at the rate of thirty dollars a month; the pay of the second class at the rate of twenty dollars; and the pay of coal-heavers shall be at the rate of fifteen dollars, with one ration a day to each.

But the commanding officer shall, when it is practicable, direct second class firemen to succeed or supply the places of the first class; and the coal-heavers, if qualified, shall take the place of the second class firemen in the preference to other persons.

The exception in favor of "executive officers," when on duty, made in the General Orders of the Navy Department of August 31, 1846, and May 27, 1847, which orders were legalized by act of August 5, 1854, is construed to apply to said officers while in the discharge of their military duties on board the vessel at the station to which they are attached, but not on any other occasion.

DISBURSEMENTS BY PURSERS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, *March 20, 1855.*Disbursements
by Pursers.

The second section of the "Joint resolution for the relief of pursers, &c.," approved March 3, 1849, provides "that every disbursement of public moneys, or disposal of public stores, made by order of any commanding officer of the Navy, which shall be objected to by the accounting officers of the Treasury, in the settlement of the accounts of any disbursing officer, shall nevertheless be allowed to such disbursing officer; and the commanding officer by whose order such disbursement or disposal was made, shall be held accountable for the same."

This enactment does not authorize an advance of public money by the purser to the commanding officer, or to any other person, on his order. The disbursement presupposes an indebtedness, and whether the objects for which the indebtedness accrued were sanctioned or not by law or regulation, the purser would be entitled to a credit for payment therefor, when made by order of the commanding officer. But the disbursement must be for some service rendered or article furnished. For instance: if a clerk, not allowed by law, be employed, or if an excess of the regulation-complement of cabin furniture, or if unauthorized provisions or stores of any kind be purchased, by direction of the commander, and by his order the purser has paid for such unauthorized service or supplies, the purser will receive a credit for the payment, and the commander will be held accountable.

Advances by
manding officer's.

In regard to advances or loans, however, the laws of January 21, 1823, and August 26, 1842, are not repealed or modified by the joint resolution of 1849. The sixth section of the act of August 26, 1842, declares "that it shall not be lawful for a purser in the Navy to advance or loan any sum or sums of money, public or private, or any article or commodity whatever, or any credit, to any officer in the naval service, under any pretense whatever." To allow a purser to advance or loan to a commanding officer on his simple order the funds provided for the expenses of the ship and wages of the crew, would be dangerous to the service and unsafe for the Treasury, leaving an open door for collusion and fraud. No credits will be allowed to pursers for advances or loans hereafter made by orders of commanding officers, no matter how frequent or peremptory such orders may be.

Approved:

SUMMARY COURTS-MARTIAL.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 4, 1855.

In conformity with the ninth section of the "Act to provide a more efficient discipline for the Navy," approved March 2, 1855, the following regulations have been submitted to, and approved by, the President of the United States, and will be observed by summary courts-martial convened under the authority of the said act:

Rules and forms of proceeding of summary courts-martial.

1. Summary courts-martial will adopt the same forms of proceeding and rules of evidence as naval general courts-martial, so far as they shall be applicable and not inconsistent with the conciseness and precision enjoined by the law, nor with the provisions of this General Order.

2. The form of conveying a summary court-martial will be by a brief written order addressed by the commander of the vessel to the senior member of the court, stating the names and rank of the members of the court, and of the recorder, and of the time and place of meeting; and by written or verbal orders to the other members of the court and the recorder. The written order to the senior member will be appended to the record of the proceedings.

3. The record will state that the oath prescribed by the law was duly administered to each member and to the recorder, in the presence of the accused.

4. If objection is made by the accused to any member of the court, it will be so stated in the record of proceedings, and made known, if the court think fit, to the commander of the vessel, who will, at his discretion, order another member of the court, or continue the member objected to.

5. The accused shall be furnished, before trial, with a written specification of the offense or offenses for which he is to be tried. The specifications shall be as brief as practicable, without unnecessary repetition or circumlocution or accumulation of epithets, but explicit; and all offenses or misconduct committed at any one time by the same individual and intended to be charged against him, shall be comprised in the same specification, which shall be approved, before trial, by the officer ordering the court, and a duplicate of it to be annexed to the record.

6. The accused shall not be required to plead guilty or not guilty to the specification; but if a plea of guilty be made, the court may, at its discretion, admit testimony as to the character of the offender, or in extenuation of the offense. And, in any case, the court, may find the accused guilty of the whole or any part of the misconduct charged, according to the evidence, and adjudge punishment for so much as shall be found proved.

7. Witnesses shall be summoned by the recorder through the executive officer of the vessel, and the summons shall be obeyed, unless disapproved by the commanding officer for some reason to be stated in the record.

8. The court, if requested by the accused, may allow a commissioned, warrant, or petty officer to appear as counsel, and cross-examine witnesses in his behalf; but no written defense or argument, nor any protracted oral defense or argument shall be admitted. Nor shall any testimony not clearly relevant be admitted, nor any documentary evidence be read to the court or appended to the record.

9. If more than one case be tried by the same court, the record of each case shall be separate, the order for convening the court shall be appended to the record of the first case, and be referred to in each subsequent record, so as to show that the proceedings of the court are continuous. And in each case the prescribed oath shall be administered anew to the members and the recorder of the court.

AMERICAN CODE OF SIGNALS ADOPTED FOR THE USE OF THE NAVY.

American
Code of Signals adopted for the Navy.

In order to facilitate the mode of communication at sea between ships-of-war and the merchant service, the American Code of Signals, by Henry J. Rogers, has been adopted for the use of the Navy, copies of which will be distributed by the proper bureau, among vessels of the United States Navy, as the department may, from time to time, direct. The flags will be made at the yards or on board ship, as may be most convenient.

Commanding officers of the Navy will embrace every opportunity to familiarize the service with the use of these signals.

GENERAL ORDER.

HONORABLE DISCHARGES.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 7, 1855.

Honorable discharges.

Whenever any seaman, ordinary seaman, landsman, or boy, who shall have received the "honorable discharge" from the Navy, authorized by the "Act to provide a more efficient discipline for the Navy," approved March 2, 1855, (form of which has been prescribed by the department,) shall, within three months from the date thereof, present said "honorable discharge" at any naval rendezvous, if he shall answer the description of such discharge, and shall be physically qualified, he shall be reënlisted for three years, and, upon his transfer to a receiving ship, shall be entitled to receive three month's pay equal to that to "which he would have been entitled if he had been employed in actual service" in the rate specified in the "honorable discharge."

If the "honorable discharge" should have been lost, reference can be made to the files of the department for corroboration that the person presenting himself did receive an "honorable discharge," and for a descriptive list of his person.

The recruiting officer will write on the face of the "honorable discharge," over his official signature, the date of reënlistment. After the reception on board the receiving ship of the person reënlisted, the commanding officer, also, will write on the face of the "honorable discharge," over his official signature, that the three months' pay has been credited or paid to him, with the date of such credit or payment, and the amount thereof.

To those reënlisting under the "honorable discharge," the advance authorized by the General Order of the department, dated August 11, 1854, will also be made.

Should the person holding an "honorable discharge" prove physically disqualified, it will be so written by the recruiting officer on the face of the discharge, and such discharge shall not entitle the holder to be received under it.

In the reënlistment of men under honorable discharges, regard will be had to the provisions of the Circular of March 25, 1851, in relation to enlistments.

On the returns now required to be made to the department of enlisted men from rendezvous and receiving ships, special reference will be made to those men who have been reënlisted under an "honorable discharge," and from what vessel they received their discharge.

Commanding officers of vessels, upon returning from a cruise, when directed to discharge the whole or any part of the crew, will furnish to those who, in their judgment, are entitled to it under the law, an "honorable discharge," and separate returns will be made to the department of the names and description of those to whom they have been given.

Blanks for the honorable discharges and return will be furnished by the department, and great care should be taken that they are both accurately and fully filled out.

A yeoman, however, is not to be discharged until his accounts have been audited and approved of by the commandant of the yard, as required by the Ordnance Instructions and other general regulations or orders. If found correct, the commandant of the yard will then grant the "honorable discharge," if entitled to it in the opinion of the commanding officer of the vessel to which to which he belonged. Yeoman not to receive his discharge until his accounts are settled.

When invalids are sent to the United States from a foreign station, the commanding officer of the vessel to which they belonged will transmit a list of their names to the department, stating the general character of each, and designating such as, in his opinion, are entitled, under the law, to the "honorable discharge," in order that the commandant of the station at which they may arrive in the United States may be directed to grant the said discharge to those deserving it. A duplicate of this list is to be sent also to the commandant of the station where they are to arrive.

When any seaman, ordinary seaman, landsman, or boy, shall be discharged at his own request, or for his own convenience, before the expiration of his term of enlistment, he shall not be entitled to the "honorable discharge."

Line of duty. The Attorney General, in a circular of May 17, 1855, defines the term "line of duty" "to denote that an act of duty performed must have relation or causation, mediate or immediate, to the wound, the casualty, the injury, or the disease producing disability or death."

COMMENCEMENT OF PAY OF OFFICERS.

Extract from a letter addressed to the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury by the Secretary of the Navy, dated October 23, 1855.

Commencement of pay of promoted officers.

"I find on examination that the rules of this department in relation to the commencement of pay of officers promoted have varied. The prevailing practice seems to be to allow pay from the time to which the commission relates in giving rank. This has long been, and is now, the rule of the War Department, to which there is a determination to adhere. I think there should also, if possible, be uniformity in the rules of the two branches of the service.

"I am of opinion, therefore, that it is better for the present to allow the pay back to the period of rank.

"This need not interfere with the General Order of June 9, 1853, applicable to special cases."

From the "Act to provide internal revenue to support the government, and to pay interest on the public debt."—Approved July 1, 1862.

SEC. 86. And be it further enacted, That on and after the 1st day of August,* 1862, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all salaries of officers, or payments to persons in the civil, military, naval, or other employment or service of the United States, including senators and representatives and delegates in Congress, when exceeding the rate of six hundred dollars per annum, a duty of three per centum on the excess above the said six hundred dollars; and it shall be the duty of all paymasters, and all disbursing officers under the government of the United States, or in the employ thereof, when making any payments to officers and persons, as aforesaid, or upon settling and adjusting the accounts of such officers and persons, to deduct and withhold the aforesaid duty of three per centum, and shall, at the same time make a certificate, stating the name of the officer or person from whom such deduction was made, and the amount thereof, which shall be transmitted to the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, and entered as part of the internal duties; and the pay-roll, receipts, or account of officers or persons paying such duty, as aforesaid, shall be made to exhibit the fact of such payment.

From an "Act to suppress insurrection, punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate the property of rebels, and for other purposes."—Approved July 17, 1862.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That all slaves of persons who shall hereafter be engaged in rebellion against the government of the United States, or who shall in any way give aid or comfort thereto, escaping from such persons and taking refuge within the lines of the army; and all slaves captured from such persons, or deserted by them and coming under the control of the government of the United States; and all slaves of such persons found on [or] being within any place occupied by rebel forces and afterwards occupied by forces of the United States, shall be deemed captives of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude, and not again held as slaves.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That no slave escaping into any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, from any other State, shall be delivered up, or in any way impeded or hindered of his liberty, except for crime or some offence against the laws, unless the person claiming said fugitive shall first make oath that the person to whom the labor or service of such fugitive is alleged to be due is his lawful owner, and has not borne arms against the United States in the present rebellion, nor in any way given aid and comfort thereto; and no person engaged in the military or naval service of the United States shall, under any pretence whatever, assume to decide on the validity of the claim of any person to the service or labor of any other person, or surrender up any such person to the claimant, on pain of being dismissed from the service.

* Extended to September 1 by Secretary of the Treasury, as authorized.

An act to provide for the more prompt settlement of the accounts of disbursing officers.

That, from and after the passage of this act, any officer or agent of the United States who shall receive public money which he is not authorized to retain as salary, pay, or emolument, shall render his accounts monthly instead of quarterly as heretofore; and such accounts, with the vouchers necessary to the correct and prompt settlement thereof, shall be rendered direct to the proper accounting officer of the treasury, and be mailed or otherwise forwarded to its proper address within ten days after the expiration of each successive month. And in case of the non-receipt at the treasury of any accounts within a reasonable and proper time thereafter, the officer whose accounts are in default shall be required to furnish satisfactory evidence of having complied with the provisions of this act; and for any default on his part the delinquent officer shall be deemed a defaulter, and be subject to all the penalties prescribed by the sixteenth section of the act of August sixth, eighteen hundred and forty-six, "to provide for the better organization of the treasury, and for the collection, safe-keeping, transfer, and disbursement of the public revenue." Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, if in his opinion the circumstances of the case justify and require it, extend the time hereinbefore prescribed for the rendition of accounts: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to restrain the heads of any of the departments from requiring such other returns or reports from the officer or agent subject to the control of such heads of departments as the public interest may require.

Approved July 17, 1862.

From "An act to define the pay and emoluments of certain officers of the army, and for other purposes."—Approved July 17, 1862.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That * * * no officer of the army or navy of the United States shall be paid mileage except for travel actually performed at his own expense, and in obedience to orders.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That all contracts made for, or orders given for, the purchase of goods or supplies by any department of the government shall be promptly reported to Congress by the proper head of such department, if Congress shall at the time be in session, and if not in session, said reports shall be made at the commencement of the next ensuing session.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That no contract or order, or any interest therein, shall be transferred by the party or parties to whom such contract or order may be given to any other party or parties, and that any such transfer shall cause the annulment of the contract or order transferred, so far as the United States are concerned: Provided, That all rights of action are hereby reserved to the United States for any breach of such contract by the contracting party or parties.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That every person who shall furnish supplies of any kind to the army or navy shall be required to mark and distinguish the same with the name or names of the contractors so furnishing said supplies, in such manner as the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy may, respectively, direct, and no supplies of any kind shall be received unless so marked and distinguished.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That whenever any contractor for subsistence, clothing, arms, ammunition, munitions of war, and for every description of supplies for the army or navy of the United States shall be found guilty by a court-martial of fraud or wilful neglect of duty, he shall be punished by fine, imprisonment, or such other punishment as the court-martial shall adjudge; and any person who shall contract to furnish supplies of any kind or description for the army or navy he shall be deemed and taken as a part of the land or naval forces of the United States for which he shall contract to furnish said supplies, and be subject to the rules and regulations for the government of the land and naval forces of the United States.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the President of the United States be, and hereby is, authorized and requested to dismiss and discharge from the military service, either in the army, navy, marine corps, or volunteer force in the United States service, any officer for any cause which, in his judgment, either renders such officer unsuitable for, or whose dismissal would promote, the public service.

An act in relation to the letters of sailors and marines in the service of the United States..

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the provisions of the act of July twenty second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, authorizing soldiers to send letters through the mails of the United States without pre-payment of postage, is hereby extended to the sailors and marines in the actual service of the United States, under such regulations as the Post Office Department shall provide, the postage thereon to be paid by the recipients.

Approved January 21, 1862.

[The following are the regulations of the Post Office Department governing the transmission of letters of sailors and marines.]

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Appointment Office, February 8, 1862.

Under the act of Congress, approved January 21, 1862, sailors and marines in the actual service of the United States have the same privilege with soldiers of sending letters without pre-payment of postage.

All postmasters are instructed to mail without pre-payment of postage all such letters when certified as follows: The envelope must bear the certificate "Naval Letter," signed by the commanding officer or lieutenant on board the vessel, with the name of the vessel. Thus:

NAVAL LETTER. Richard Roe, 1st Lieutenant, U. S. Gunboat Kanawha, To JOHN SMITH, New York.

This privilege does not extend to commissioned officers.

All such certified letters must be rated with postage at the mailing office, to be collected at the office of delivery. Letters addressed to such sailors and marines must be prepaid as before.
